

Fostering Leadership at the Interface of Primary Care and Behavioral Health

The SHLI/MSM Division of Behavioral Health developed an innovative program to provide clinical and administrative health care professionals with the knowledge and training needed to successfully develop integrated care practices. On January 11, 2016, the program will launch as a

The program consists of a _____ and _____ designed to catalyze integrated practice change and quality improvement for program participants as well as a wider audience.

Online-only participants will have access to the web-based program and receive mentorship and coaching from established integrated practices and integrated care experts. In addition, twenty (20) primary care sites in Georgia will have structured monthly leadership and capacity building activities, in-person engagement with the ICLP training team, and be eligible for _____ with technical assistance for implementation of improvement projects.
